The Senate Passes the Bill Prohibiting Pool-Selling and Gambling in the District—A Little Tilt in the House Over a Rell Call This Morning.

In the Senate to-day resolutions were presented by Mr. Dolph, from the Chamber of Commerce, of Portland, Ore., protesting against any further discussion of the Free Coinage act.

Mr. Faulkner, from the District Committee, reported the bill to prevent bookmaking and pool-selling in the cities of Washington or Georgetown, or within one mile of the boundaries of these cities.

The bill does not take in the race course and the question was made by Mr. Hoar as to it not doing so.

This was explained by Mr. Ingalls who said that the bill was an attempt on the part of the Commissioners to adjust the topography of the District to the conscience of the Executive (a similar bill having been vetoed last session).

It was a serious effort on the part of the committee to avoid the difficulty by exclusion, so that if the Executive chose to veto the bill he would have to exercise a process of deductive reasoning. Pool selling on race courses was not a very mortal offense, and never had been visited with any special severity by the laws of any community.

To a suggestion that the bill was intended to apply particularly to poolselling and gambling as practiced by negroes in the northwestern part of the city, Mr Edmunds remarked that the only race that it did not apply to was the horse race.

The Senate also passed a bill to make Enfield, Conn., a port of delivery in the Hartford district.

The Sundry Civil Appropriation bill was reported and Mr. Allison gave notice that he would ask for its consideration on Monday, and, if it was not concluded before 6 o'clock on that day, he would ask for a night session.

The Senate bill for a new mint building in Philadelphia, at a cost not to exceed $2,000.000, was reported and placed on the calendar.

$2,000,000, was reported and placed on the calendar.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the Nicaragua Canal bill.

Mr. Morgan addressed the Senate in support of the bill and in reply to arguments made against it yesterday.

Mr. Edmunds, referring to a misunderstanding as to the amount of capital stock subscribed for by the construction company (it appearing in the committee's report as $100,000,000), said that he had a telegram from Mr. Hitchcock, president of the company, saying that was a misprint for $1,000,000.

Mr. Morgan said that the reason the bill was pressed at this late stage of the session was on account of its very great import-was on account of its very great import-ance, and that the committee had no pos-ance, and that the committee had no possible alternative.

Mr. Wolcott inquired of Mr. Morgan whether the testimony did not show that, while the construction company had subscribed for $1,000,000 in stock, the subscriptions to the stock by the rest of the world amounted to only $14,500, on which 10 per cent., or $1,450, had been paid in.

Mr. Morgan said that he did not know that to be the case, but was perfectly willing to admit it, as it strengthened the argument that the pending bill should be passed. If the bill was not passed the company would go on and build the canal and obtain the money in the markets of the world.

Commenting upon Mr. Vest's argument as to the obstacle presented by the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, Mr. Morgan? asked whether Senators were to take off their hat to Queen Victoria and say "by the leave of your Msjesty." That, he said, was not the American view of the question. It had not been so since the days of Monroe and never would be. the world.

HOUSE. In the House to-day, at the opening of the session, there were only 121 members present, and, pending the reading of the journal, Mr. Fithian of Illinois made the point that no quorum was present.

A call of the House was demanded by Mr. McMillin of Tennessee, but it was rejected by a vote of yeas 68, nays 125; and, a quorum being disclosed by this vote,
the clerk proceeded to read the journal.
Messrs. Fithian and Springer demanded Messrs. Fithian and Springer demanded that it should be read in full, and this drew forth the remark from Mr. Cannon that he was unaware that there were two Speakership candidates from Illinois.

Mr. Fithian interrupted the reading several times, and declared that the Clerk was skipping some of the names on the roll-call.

This, upon the authority of the Clerk, the Speaker stated to be incorrect.

The Clerk proceeded with the reading but was again interrupted by Mr. Springer, who stated that he was not reading the numbers of the pension bills passed last night and not the titles. After a brief controversy the Speaker stated that the Clerk was reading exactly what was furnished him by the journal clerk. There had been no time to fill in the titles.
Mr. Springer suggested that this was not a journal, and Mr. Wheeler of Alabama suggested that the House should take a recess until the journal was properly made up. But this idea was not carried out, and the reading continued.

Do not discard your warm winter clothing too soon. It is better to suffer a little inconvenience than to take cold.

Remember that one is especially liable to contract a had cold or chill at this season of the year.

A cough or cold contracted between the seasons is the most annoying kind, and may last through the summer.

If you feel a cough or a cold coming on, take a drink of pure whiskey at once. It will keep the blood in circulation and is the best preventive against the diseases of the season.

Remember that only pure whiskey should be taken. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has the strongest recommendations from the leading scientists and medical men. It is the only standard medicinal whiskey. Take no other from your druggist or grocer.

The Naval Academy graduates of the class of 1869 held their eighth annual reunion at Welcker's Hotel last night. There were present Lieutenants Charles G. Bowman, William P. Potter, Giles B. Of the seventy-four men who graduated in the class forty-live are still in the service, but of these so many are at sea and on duty at distint points that only the twelve mentioned could be present. The fire bells will ring at hoon, as customary, and the Friendahip Company (Veterans) will have a banquet at Fleischmann's at night, when covers will be laid for 75 or 100, and speeches will be the order of the evening, with Captain James F. A number of Washington veteran firemen will be present at this, and lend in making it a happy reunion. The veteran firemen of this city and Washington have worked the machine together on several occasions, most notable, says Captain Billy Smith, at the big fire on King street in 1855, when the market and museum building was burned in 1870, and latter, when old Liberty Hall was cremated. The call for an engine was always prompely responded to by the old Franklin Company especially.

Commonwealth's attorney for the county, Clements, says that there is a large amount of land out there about togo into the hands of the State officials through sheer ignorance of the law passed about three years ago requiring delinquent lands sold after every two instead of ten years as was formerly the case. He says the owners of this land are now residents and apparently think they have an elephant on their hands.

The land out there is being improved, and now brings twice or thrice what it did two years ago. He has a bright view of county land, and says the latest move is to form a stock company and lay out a cemetery. He wants a monument over his grave when the time comes, and don't want any Washington speculators buying up and building over his little 6x4 plat.

"No," replied the horse editor,
"McJunkin was out hunting one day,

Being a humane sort of a chap he lifted the rock and released the snake, which

"Is that where the presence of mind came in?"
"No: I am coming to that. A year or so after McJunkin was hunting in the same locality and was startled by hearing the peculiar noise of the rattlesnake. Turning he found one of the reptiles following him, and recognized the one he had been kind to before. The snake seemed very glad to see him, and followed at his heels like a dog. McJunkin was struck by this remarkable case of gratitude in a creature supposed to be totally devoid of that quality, and he took the snake home with with him. After extracting its fangs the snake was permitted the freedom of the house.

When we reflect with satisfaction how far we have emancipated ourselves from the restraints of fashion in the matter of beards, does it not seem marvelous that we still endure the oppressive though unwritten law which constitutes the chimney-pot hat to be the only decorous head-dress for well-to-do male humanity? Woel well esthetic woe to the sons of men who, having cast aside one after another the Phrygian cap, the furred birrus; the slashed bonnet, the knightly beaver, the three-cocked hat and the feathered glengarry, have resolved that whosover would enter good society must bind his brows with the gloomy cylinder of Lincoin & Bennett! None has a word to say in its favor; every one hates it and condemns it. When we reflect with satisfaction how to say in its favor; every one hates it and condemns it.

In traveling, the hideous object has to be provided with a special case; yet for more than three generations it has been held indispensable. There is a cymical levity in the ribbon which still encircles its rigid circumference, recalling the happy days when a hatband was a reality, used to adjust the flexible covering to the head. Odlous as it is admitted to be, perhaps the most serious objection to it, from the point of view of taste, is the hindrance it presents to any tendency in our other garments to become more picturesque. Every visible article of outfit has to be brought to the resthetic level of the headpiece. A chimney-pot hat crowning a tasteful costume reduces it to ridicule.

The Rev. Mr. Kyle, Senator-elect from South Dakota, designates himself an "In-South Dakota, designates himself an "Indocrat." This, we believe, is an entirely new brand. Careful search of the writings of Mr. Rudyard Kipling reveals no suggestion as to what sort of crat an Indo should be. The etymology of the world is doubtful. By a rather far-fetched derivation it may mean merely a lazy-crat. Or, perhaps, the telegraph editor has missed the proper authography. If it were indoughcrat the negative particle and the well-known figurative sense of dough, as in "doughface," would furnish a satisfactory definition.

Mr. Kyle was elected as an independent or compromise candidate; but plenty of such have turned out to be so very much like the old-fashioned Democrat or Republican that there was no necessity of inventing a new name because of that circumstance. Everything finds followers nowadays. For which reason the country will watch with some interest to see what line of policy and performance is to be expected from an indocrat. It may be something highly desirable.

The Waverly triplets excite much interest in that village. They are plump, bright and healthy infants and bid fair to grow up to sturdy manhood and womanhood. Scores of persons have called to see them, and every one says they are decidedly the prettiest babies in the village. They were christened a few days ago. The boys were named John and George and the girl Catherina. All the babies bear such a singular and striking resemblance to each other that it is almost impossible to distinguish John from George, or George from Catherina.

Mr. William L. Fink, a dry goods merchant of Waverly, has presented each baby with a silver metal. Each medal is attached to a ribbon and each ribbon is of a different color. The babies wear these ribbons and medals, and the identity of each can thus be readily ascortained. Perhaps the proudest man in Waverly is John Borman, the village barber, who is the father of this interesting and pretty group. Mrs. Borman is improving rapidly. Dr. Robert G. Rankin, the family physician, says there are no prettier babies anywhere in Maryland.

FIREMAN NEWMAN DEAD

DEATH RELIEVES THE BRAVE MAN

Even in Unconscious Moments He Call the Box Which Rang the Night of the Fatal Accident-The Funeral Arrangements-Talk With Chief Parris Regarding Pensions for Firemen.

Thomas R. Newman, the fireman who had his leg broken by a collision with a cable car and Truck A on the 10th of December last, died at Providence Hospital shortly after midnight last night. Since Sunday last the brave fireman has suffered excruciating pain, and for several hours before his death he was delirious. Even in these hours he was repeatedly calling "Box 135," the number which was rang on the night of the fatal accident.

which was rang on the night of the fatal accident.

Chief Parris and other members of the department visited their suffering comrade as often as possible, and every effort was made to make him as comfortable as possible. On Sunday last when Surgeon General Hamilton decided that the only hope of saving the life of the unfortunate man was the amputation of his leg, he realized that the chances of his recovery were exceedingly doubtful.

After the amputation Mr. Newman began to grow worse and suffered greatly. Frequently he spoke of the kindly treatment of his wife and his brother iremen. He appeared to realize that he could not possibly recover, and expressed a willingness to die.

ment of his wife and his brother firemen. He appeared to realize that he could not possibly recover, and expressed a willingness to die.

The deceased was 54 years of age, and was appointed to the Fire Department on the 1st day of July, 1875. He leaves a wife and several children to whom he was devotedly attached. He was a kind husband and indulgent father and his home life was a happy one.

As a member of the Fire Department he was highly exteemed and beloved, and Chief Parris said this morning: "I do not think a braver or better threman ever served any department than 'Doc' Newman. He was always ready, and no matter how great the chances of danger he was ever ready to accept them. It is hard that the life of a brave, good man should be taken by the carelessness of others. Here are sworn statements to show that the accident which caused his death was not due to the driver of the track.

"Mr. Newman being a poor man and his family expense heavy, he allowed his policy in the Washington Endowment Association to go over. All that his family will get will be about $200 or $250 from the private relief fund of the department. This fund is kept up by each member contributing $2 at the death of one of the members. We do not get a cent from Congress. Every penny is our own money. We are glad, though, to be able to assist the widows and orphans of our brothers who are taken away."

The truck-house of Truck A on North Capitol street, of which Mr. Newman was a member, is draped in mourning and the members will wear a badge of inourning for thirty days.

The funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from his residence, No. 9 D street northeast.

Chief Parris has made a detail of twenty men from the different companies to attend the funeral. The detail is in charge of Assistant Chief Belt and foreman of truck A, S, IK, Heiry.

The following is the detail:

The unfortunate death of Fireman Newman from injuries received in line of duty brings before the Commissioners a question that has been presented to them so many times in the past, that of immediate action in the establishment of a fireman's relief fund that will meet the demands made upon it, which the present relief system is unable to cope with. Chief Parris expressed himself on the subject to a Curric reporter this morning, "Ithink it a reflection on the worth of the department," he said, "over which I have the honor to preside, for Congress to neglect us so studiously in this matter. Some ment," he said, "over which I have the honor to preside, for Congress to neglect us so studiously in this matter. Some time ago I wrote a letter to Senator Plumb, chairman of the Senate Committee on District Affairs, recommending that a bill be introduced providing that 35 per cent. of the fines collected in the Police Court be appropriated to the use of the Fire Department relief fund.

"Mr. Plumb replied to me in a communication, which stated that he did not think the idea a feasible one, and suggested that I formulate some other plan and send it to the Commissioners with the request that they express their views regarding it and forward the bill to the House Committee. I accordingly wrote the Commissioners requesting them 2to urge Congress to appropriate the sum of $3,384 annually, to be used for relief expenditures.

"The Commissioners, who have given the idea their hearty support and co-operation, forwarded it to the House committee, where it has been swallowed up in a silence that I am afraid will not be broken.

"Every member at present is compelled by Congress to pay out of his salary into the fund $1 each mouth, which amounts in the aggregate to $128 every four weeks, and out of this sum $110 is paid, as soon as it is collected, for relief benefits.

"You can see by this statement how we are hampered in relieving our disabled men and their families. If the proceeds from the sale of condemned Fire Department material were devoted to the aid of these men it would be a help, but even that slight assistance is denied us.

"The great work accomplished by the Fire Department, the untiring efforts and arduous duties of its members, do not seem to find the proper place in the minds and hearts of Congress and the general public. There are men on the force who have been in harness for fifteen years without a break. The work these old veterans have performed for the pablic interests deserves retirement on full pay, but even that is not suitable recompens to my mind. A fight has been made by me for my men ever sin

They assembled to discuss the unfortunate condition of the oppressed Russian Jews. After prayer by Rabbi Stern the meeting was addressed by Mr. Lewis Abraham who said: "We are not here this evening to plead the cause of the Hebrew, but to protest against man's inhumanity to man—Russia's merciless persecution of her Jewish clittens—as expressed in the anti-Jewish laws which are furthered and perpetuated by the officers and menials of a country that stands to-day in this enlightened age a dark cloud of barbarism against the gleaming heavens of civilization and justice.
